CAJEPUT PERCHES & CHEWS

The cajeput tree (cage-e-put) is also known as the paperbark tree due to its soft, layered outer bark. The cajeput tree has been used to make tea for centuries by indigenous people in Australia, Indonesia and SE Asia. Oil (closely related to tea tree oil) is extracted commercially from the cajeput tree and used for a variety of medicinal purposes .

The branches of the cajeput tree are ideally suited for bird perches !

- * Gentle & comfortable natural perch for bird's feet
- * Very hard, longlasting wood core
- * Fun, shreddable outer bark that birds love to chew
- * The anti-bacterial, anti-fungal and anti-parasitical qualities of the oil in the bark will help to keep birds healthy

Harvested in the Florida Everglades

Our cajeput chews make a great foot toy and they come drilled so they can also be used as toy parts and as replacement perch washers !
